

My grandmother, Mary Frances Pearsall Bittell, often spoke of the Dandisons, Crickmores, Richardsons, and Hopsons. I didn't realize they were actually related to her until I started researching Robert Dandison. I was told he was grandma's grandfather.

Of course, I wanted to find out as much about him as I could. I've searched the census and visited the Oak Hill Cemetery in Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan. What I have found only scratches the surface.
